About the cruise destinations

Petra (Aqaba), Jordan

Located in southwest Jordan, ancient Petra was once a flourishing spice trade center and capital of the Nabatean kingdom between 400 B.C. and A.D. 106. After sitting deserted for centuries, the UNESCO World Heritage Site was rediscovered in the 1800s and excavations began in 1958. Standout sites among the soaring sandstone cliffs include a large tomb known as Khaznah ("Treasury"); Al-Dayr ("the Monastery"), a tomb façade used as a church during Byzantine times; and the well-preserved High Place of Sacrifice, an altar dating to biblical times. Archaeologists continue to excavate the temples, tombs and theaters, as only 15% is believed to have been uncovered. Weave through the slot canyons on foot, climb to the high points -- considered the most holy -- for a bird's-eye view or explore Petra atop a camel or horse. Special night tours wander the Lost City by candlelight. Aqaba -- Jordan's Red Sea port and resort town, located 80 miles southwest -- boasts historical sites as well as spectacular coral reefs.

Sharm-El-Sheikh, Egypt

Sharm-el-Sheikh lies near the southernmost tip of the Sinai Peninsula where the Straits of Tiran meet the Gulf of Aqaba. Sharm-el-Sheikh serves as the starting point for an excursion into the desert and to St. Catherine's Monastery, known as the oldest Christian monastery in the world. For water-sports fans, Sharm-el-Sheikh and Na'ama Bay offer spectacular possibilities. The waters of the Red Sea and its coral reefs harbor colorful creatures that greet snorkelers and divers in this underwater paradise.

Sokhna, Egypt

Sokhna Port is located about 35 miles south of Suez and is only about an hour from Cairo - definitely close enough for a day trip if you choose. This port has gained international attention for being the first electronically run port in Egypt, with a capacity of more than eight million tons of goods, which has significantly boosted the economy in this area. This popular spot has a reputation for pristine white beaches, clear blue water, coral reefs, fishing and water sports.

Luxor (Safaga), Egypt

This small port city on the western shore of the Red Sea is a gateway to Luxor and all of the splendid Egyptian temples, tombs and ruins found there. After experiencing the sights on the east bank (including Karnak and the Luxor temples and Luxor Museum) cruise across the Nile to the west bank (where sights include the Valley of the Kings and the Temple of Queen Hatshepsut). Although most people head straight to the ancient architectural treasures, scuba diving and windsurfing are popular activities in Safaga itself.

Jeddah, Saudi Arabia

Saudi Arabia is marked by stark contrasts between the modern and the strict Islamic customs the country lives by. Visit the Al-Sha'afi Mosque, the 500-year-old water supply system for the city, and the old Turkish Forts in Jeddah city. Saudi Arabia, the birthplace of Islam, is a must for the faithful to visit Mecca.
